Got Mercury?

Finding out is just a hair snip away!

Do you eat locally caught fish, tuna or sushi?

Then there is a chance you have unhealthy levels of mercury in your body.

There's an easy way to find out at the Sierra Club's Got Mercury? hair testing event – a tiny snip of hair is all it takes.

Free and confidential testing to determine your mercury levels. Everyone is welcome. A stylist will clip a carefully selected portion of hair at the back of your head. The Prairie Group will send off the samples for free testing. The lab will report results to you.
